The first decking sheet will then be pushed out onto the steelwork to be used as a working platform from which to lay the remaining sheets in that bay. The edge trim must be fixed to the perimeter supports at maximum 750mm centres, with restraint straps installed to the top of the upstand leg/tick at centres as indicated in the Edge Trim & Flashings section using self-tapping screws. Refer to Fixings section (page 24) for guidance on minimum bearings. Deck fixings Fixing of the deck and edge trim to the supporting steelwork or walls will typically be carried out using low velocity powder (eAAshot-firingAAA) or gas-actuated cartridge tools. eAAAST has laid more than 5 lacs sq. Cutting / notching Decking sheets are typically delivered to site at the correct square cut length. eAAAST provides in-house safety training to its team to ensure safety at the Site. meter of Decking sheet. Forming holes and openings Where trimming sheets are provided, the decking sheets may be cut to suit the size of the opening and edge trim installed. Refer to section 4.6 - Fixings for recommended fixing types and spacings. Any additional support plates or angles required around columns, penetrations or splices must also be provided by the Steelwork Contractor. Go to the next section Where deck ribs rest on joists that are to receive welded shear bolts, around columns and other projections, chamfering and/or cutting the deck will be required. Composite slabs and beams using steel decks: Best practices for design and construction It is the responsibility of steel contractors to ensure that the supporting structure is in a stable condition, adequately restrained and delivered as "safe for access" before proceeding with deck installation squares per day. When there is no supporting steelworks, the voids will have to be stripped out. Weather Conditions Deck sheaves should only be opened if all sheets of the sheaf can be secured or left in a safe condition at the end of the shift. In certain circumstances, it may be necessary to use self-tapping screws. In areas where it is essential to keep grout losses to a minimum, taping all joints and side beams may offer a cost-effective solution, it should be noted that this is not standard practice and should be discussed at the pre-tender stage. Pre-starting Before installation on deck begins, a fall protection system (see section 10) and safe access must be in place. eAAAST The version is approved for all major customers, including NTPC, Bridge & Roof, Gannon & Dunkley, Gammon India Limited and L&T. eAAAST During periods of inclement weather, allowance must be made for unfixed plates, as these must be secured at the end of each day with a temporary strap Frame of the convenience. During the installation, cumulative compartment width measurements should be made to ensure that the effective width of the product cover is consistent consistent Sealing and finishing off Gaps up to 5mm are acceptable as they are not sufficient to allow concrete aggregate to escape. escape.
